Move More. Live More.

Record your physical activity.

Daily activities such as walking the dog, going for a jog and playing catch with the kids quickly add up to virtual miles you can use to “walk” across the state. Log on to www.walkgeorgia.org to keep track of your physical activity. A drop-down menu lets you record everything from pilates and aerobics classes, taking a walk with coworkers on your lunch break or swimming laps in the pool to gardening, horseback riding or playing a game of pick-up basketball. Miles add up to “unlock” counties and get you moving across the state.

“Keeping a log of my physical activity makes me feel more confident because it lets me see how active I really am.”

“Walk Georgia provided a constant reminder to stay physically fit. The competition was motivation and pushed me to another level.”

Track your progress.

An online map lets you chart a virtual course across Georgia and learn facts about our state’s 159 counties along the way. Whether you visit the coast or hike the mountains, as you move you will learn new ways to improve your health and see how you compare to other individuals and teams throughout the state.
