BOARD APPROVES TWO NEW ROAD SAFETY PROJECTS

(Lawrenceville, Ga., Aug. 15, 2006) - County Commissioners gave the Gwinnett DOT a thumbs up Tuesday to start work on two road safety construction projects.

The intersection of Lenora Church Road and Centerville-Rosebud Road south of Snellville will be rebuilt by ISC, Inc. under the approved $840,505 contract, the lowest of six bids submitted.

Baldwin Paving Company got the contract for a school safety project on Old Auburn Road at Dacula Middle School for $560,338. The project includes widening a short section of the road, less than two-tenths of a mile, and adding curb, gutter and sidewalks.

Chairman Charles Bannister said the construction on both projects will take about four months to complete. "Once again, we can thank the voters for their support of the 2001 SPLOST program for funding these transportation improvements," he said.
