

Lawrenceville Female Seminary

was the first girl's school in Gwinnett County. Young ladies could study writing, spelling, arithmetic, Latin, geometry, and philosophy. All students were taught in one room and used slate boards for their lessons.