

The Maguire-Livsey Big House

was built in the 1820s by Thomas Maguire when he moved to Gwinnett County from Ireland. He built a large plantation known as the Promised Land and kept a farm journal. The Livsey family purchased the property in the 1920s and became leaders in the community through the establishment of local businesses.

