DECEMBER 2017

Gwinnett to launch celebration of its bicentennial

This December, Gwinnett County will kick off a yearlong celebration of its 200th birthday that pays homage to our history, recognizes and remembers the people who made our community great, and highlights the vision for our promising future.

From its founding on December 15, 1818, as a humble agrarian community to its skyrocketing growth to the second-largest county in Georgia, Gwinnett has had multiple milestones to celebrate.

Festivities begin December 15, 2017, with a gala hosted by the Gwinnett Historical Society, "A Frontier Affair: Prelude to Gwinnett's Bicentennial," at the Gwinnett Historic Courthouse.

The County's Communications team is video-recording remembrances and stories by Gwinnettians from all walks of life. Called "Story Vault," the recordings ensure that the county's history won't be forgotten. To schedule a session to tell your unique story about Gwinnett County, call 770.822.7180.

Events throughout the year include lectures, bus tours, dances, crafts, exhibits, reenactments, family campouts, and festivals. For more information, visit www.gwinnett200.com.

AROUND GWINNETT

Drop off your Christmas tree for recycling

Don't leave your used Christmas tree by the curb where it sits forever and annoys the neighbors. Bring it to the annual Bring One for the Chipper event sponsored by Gwinnett Clean & Beautiful in partnership with Gwinnett County. You can drop off natural Christmas trees between December 26 and January 15 at designated sites in Gwinnett County. The trees will be chipped into mulch for use at County parks. Select fire stations will accept trees 24/7 and other locations will accept them during regular business hours. Visit www.gwinnettcg.org to see a list of all drop-off sites or register to volunteer for the next chipping event.

Tax Assessor's Office to conduct onsite property field visits

The Gwinnett Tax Assessor's Office is conducting onsite property visits in the coming months. Field visits will be performed by a county or a contracted appraiser. During field visits, appraisers verify existing or new construction, measure exteriors, and take photographs. Residential property field visits do not require entry into buildings or assistance by the resident. Call 770.822.7200 or email taxpayer.services@gwinnettcounty.com for more information.

Offices will also be closed January 1 for the New Year's Day holiday and re-open January 2. A Magistrate Court judge will be available at the Gwinnett County Detention Center on both holidays. ## Gwinnett, GCPS partner to build fire training tower

Gwinnett County Government and Gwinnett County Public Schools teamed up to build a four-story fire training tower on the campus of Maxwell High School of Technology to help current and future firefighters develop and hone skills to ensure their safety and save the lives of others.

The $600,000 tower, funded largely with SPLOST revenue plus some school district money, will train firefighters in critical skills such as search and rescue operations, using a breathing apparatus, emergency medical care, and hoisting techniques.

Maxwell, a career-centered school, offers several programs that lead to public service jobs. In 2016, Gwinnett County Fire and Emergency Services hired 12 Maxwell graduates.

PUBLIC SAFETY

Be prepared for winter weather

The onset of winter brings invigorating temperatures and bracing breezes, but it can also carry some risk. Be winter wise, and reduce the chance of mishaps or even tragedy.

Start by having all home heating appliances serviced by a qualified technician. Check smoke alarms and practice a home fire drill to test your escape plan. Install a carbon monoxide alarm near sleeping areas. Dress appropriately and wear warm layers of clothing.

Every household should have an emergency preparedness plan. Test your plan and build a winter weather kit that includes:

- Flashlights and extra batteries
- Battery-powered NOAA weather radio and a portable AM/FM radio
- Extra food and water, such as high-energy snacks
- Extra medications
- Extra baby supplies
- Basic first-aid supplies
- Blankets, sleeping bags and extra clothing for warmth
- Fully charged cell phones

PROTECTING OUR RESOURCES

Conserve water every day, preserve our water supply

Did you know that the average person in Gwinnett County uses almost 70 gallons of water per day? With more than 900,000 residents, that means Gwinnett alone is using almost 2 billion gallons each month.

The efficient and smart use of water is essential to ensuring adequate water supply in years to come. Lake Lanier, our water source, is fed by a relatively small watershed for the number of people it serves, so our water supply is finite. Each of us can do our part to conserve water by making small changes in our daily lives to ensure adequate water for residents' use and economic growth.

Conservation can be something as easy as using a broom to clean your driveway instead of a hose, using rain barrels to collect rainwater for plants, or fixing leaky pipes.

Following outdoor water-use rules saves water — and money. Sun and wind can evaporate up to half of the water you use in your yard, which is why watering is limited to the cooler times before 10:00am and after 4:00pm. Buying native or drought-resistant plants and installing efficient irrigation systems conserve water, too.

To save water indoors, take shorter showers and turn off the water when brushing your teeth. You can install a water-efficient toilet and wait until you have a full load before running your dishwasher or washing machine.

The Department of Water Resources offers workshops on saving water, such as creating a rain barrel, fixing leaks, water wise landscaping, and creating a rain garden.
