Yellow River Post Office at Hudson-Nash Farm Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

Watch the ribbon cutting that opened a new passive park on the site of the old Hudson-Nash farm along the Yellow River on Five Forks Trickum Road.

The small park features a restored building that once housed a post office and a general store that began serving customers in the 1830s. The post office ceased operations in 1903, and the late Scott Hudgens donated the five-acre property and buildings to the County in 1996.
