2013 budget review team gets to work

Gwinnett Commission Chairman Charlotte Nash has asked six residents to serve on the County's budget review team. County staff members will support Nash and the review team in setting priorities and making recommendations for the 2013 budget.

Over the last several years, budget preparation has been challenged by the need to balance core services with declining tax revenue. During the first two weeks in September, each County department and agency presented a business plan including needed financial resources to the review team. The videotaped presentations are available for viewing on the Budget Review Meetings webpage.

The Chairman's proposed 2013 budget will be made available to the public and the media at the same time it is presented to commissioners, which is anticipated to occur on November 6. A public hearing on the budget will be held in December. By County ordinance, the Board of Commissioners must adopt the annual budget during its first meeting in January.

2012 property tax bills due: October 15

Tax Commissioner Richard Steele has mailed the 2012 property tax bills, which are due on October 15.

Taxpayers who prefer to pay in two installments may choose to make an earlier partial payment as long as the total due is paid by October 15. There are several options for property tax payment:

- Pay online by check or credit card at www.GwinnettTaxCommissioner.com (Paying by check is free; convenience fees apply for credit card transactions.)
- Mail payments to P.O. Box 372, Lawrenceville, GA 30046

- Pay in person during business hours at all Tax Commissioner offices

For property owners with an escrow account, tax information will be made available to the mortgage company; however, it is ultimately the responsibility of the property owner to ensure taxes are paid by the due date. If there are questions about who will pay the taxes, homeowners should contact their mortgage company directly, especially if their mortgage company has recently changed.

Keep pests out of your home

The sight of ants, roaches, spiders, and other pests in your home is unsettling. You may be asking yourself, how are these pests getting inside? Unfortunately, they are attracted to the many sources of food and water in your home. Here are some things you can do to keep these pests out:

- Seal any cracks and holes in the outside walls of your home and its foundation, and be sure all doors and windows are properly sealed.
- Remove any leaves, firewood, bricks, stones, mulch, or plant materials to be 12 inches from your house, and do not allow vines to grow on your home.
- Clean out your gutters and repair or replace those in poor condition.
- Avoid storing firewood in your home; only bring inside wood that will be used in your fireplace right away.
- Avoid attracting pests by cleaning up spilled food and drinks, keeping food in tightly sealed containers or in the refrigerator and lids on garbage cans, and fixing leaking pipes or leaks in your basement or roof.

Some pesticides can be applied for pest control, but make sure the pesticide is labeled for applications indoors or around the perimeter of your home. Follow all of the directions and safety precautions listed on the label, and use pesticides in conjunction with the above control methods.
